

snap crackle & POP

Dr. Nisha Jackson's personal magnetism translates into electricity between her and audiences as she lectures around the nation and hosts a weekly call-in radio show. Quick and authoritative, Dr. Jackson brings life and passion to the medical topics addressed in her writing, lectures, and talk shows. Her dynamic, down-to-earth style captures audiences and involves them on a personal level. Dr. Jackson possesses the gift of putting people at ease while at the same time challenging them toward better health. She is a charismatic messenger who leaves her audiences motivated and wanting more information.

